section.io JOB DESCRIPTION
Content Engineer

We have an opportunity for a Content Engineer to join our marketing team in Colorado office.

Driven and well-rounded individual(s) possessing strong technical and communication skills and a desire to assume significant responsibility and grow at a rapid pace would fit perfectly in the role.

The Content Engineer will take ownership and drive the content marketing activities of section.io including technical articles, ebooks, website and supporting sales documentation.

As a fast growing company the Content Engineer should be a self-starter and both capable and interested in quickly growing into more senior roles.

Company Description:

section.io is a web optimization platform; built for agile teams.   section.io's customers such as Universal Music Group, Thrifty and Esprit use section.io's platform because their Engineers are properly empowered to make their websites faster, safer and more reliable.

Engineers love section.io because it synchronises right into their normal daily development practices and delivers control, transparency and flexibility.

section.io is an early stage company growing quickly and has operations in Sydney (Australia) and Boulder, CO.

Primary Responsibilities:

- Contribute to and manage section.io's technical content program
- Build and maintain content and messaging on section.io's marketing website
- Participate in ongoing section.io platform maintenance and support
- Contribute to continual improvement of methodologies, best practices, tools and techniques for more effective content production and distribution
- Contribute to shared repositories of product information and solution documentation
- Understand client requirements and overall project vision
- Communicate section.io methodology and best practices to customers
- Update customer facing systems to improve communication and guided assistance

Required Technical Qualifications:

- Strong programming skills in at least one language (JavaScript, C++, Python, etc)
- Strong fundamentals and experience in networking, particularly TCP and HTTP
- Command line proficiency Unix
- Strong written and oral communication skills
- BS in EE/CS from a top university

Required Content Skills:

- Minimum 3 years-experience in content, software implementation or build
- History of success developing technical content
- Technical thought leadership
- Interest in maintaining technical capabilities in addition to content creation

Perks:

- World-class global team, generous stock options, competitive cash compensation
- Established Remote Office - (Boulder CO HQ location)
- High energy company culture that likes to win and have fun together
- Very generous health plan and 401k